The French flag ship Pallas was at Panama. She is the flagship of Admiral Bount, and carries 32 64pound rifled guns. The Admiral has officially notified the Pacific Mail Steamship Company that the ports of west coast of Mexico are now declared blockaded by the French. The steamers of the Pacific Mail Steam ship Company are allowed to touch at Acapulco for coal d provisions and to land and receive mails, though not passengers or cargo. The Panama Star and Herold remarks: "We have no tion of any previous notice of the blockade of the west coast having been given, and this, therefore appears a rather summary way of enforcing it. The next steamers from the United States or England may have merchandlas on board for Acapalco which must be either returned to the original ports of shipment or detained on the Isthmus. We should suppose that the usual time allowed for vessels to arrive from foreign ports and discharge their cargoes, after the port has been declared blockaded, should also be expected and granted in the present case as custom has established the rule, and so abrupt a deviation from it may cause very serious less and inconvenience to innocent persons. "The instructions, bowever, received by Admiral Bonet from the French Government, are, we learn, exceedingly stringent in regard to prohibiting all vessels from touching at any of the Mexican ports even for supplies; but at the instance of the French Consul, the Admiral has been led to grant the concession above mentioned to the steamers of the Pacific Mail Steamship Corpany, although it will not be extended to any other vessels, and these steamers have permission to touch at Acapathoo only. appears a rather summary way of enforcing it.
